

GENERAL CONDITIONS OF USE FOR TMG PUBLICATIONS

Definitions

In these Conditions of Use, the terms below are defined as follows:

Conditions of Use: these general conditions of use;

Content: all text, graphics, photos, audio, music, videos, audiovisual combinations, interactive elements, computer software, scripts, games and all other materials which are published in or via the Publications, or which can be downloaded or uploaded by a User, regardless of whether these are editorial or commercial in nature. Where the term 'Publication' is used in these Conditions of Use, this is also understood to refer to the Content contained therein;

Digital Publications: amongst others, (mobile) websites and (mobile) applications, as well as other forms of digital publications by TMG;

Use: the viewing of a Publication, the downloading and uploading of Content, as well as all other possible forms of use of a Publication by a User;

User: anyone who makes Use of TMG's Publications in any way whatsoever, for instance by reading or calling up these Publications, posting User Content or otherwise;

User Content: all Content that is provided to TMG by a User, including but not limited to letters and photos submitted and all Content that a User has made available digitally or uploaded for one or more Publications;

TMG: Telegraaf Media Groep N.V., as well as each of its subsidiaries and their respective subsidiaries;

Publications: all publications by TMG, in print form, digital form and all other possible forms in which TMG publishes Content.

Applicability and Scope

These Conditions of Use apply to the Use of all TMG Publications unless other conditions have explicitly been declared applicable. By using a Publication, the User declares that he/she has taken note of and agreed to these Conditions of Use.

Intellectual Property Rights

All (intellectual) property rights to the Publications, including copyrights, trademark rights, database rights and trade name rights, are held exclusively by TMG and/or its licensors. The (right of) Use in relation to a Publication in no way implies the existence of any transfer, licence or other right of use on the part of the User with respect to these rights.

TMG explicitly reserves the copyrights to the Publications. Therefore, without TMG's prior permission, the Publications may not be reproduced or published, wholly or in part, in any way whatsoever. This is still the case even if TMG is cited as the source.

For the copying or other publishing of all or part of a Publication, the User must request permission in advance from the editor and/or publisher of the particular Publication. The contact details can be found in the Publication. In your request, clearly state that it is a request to reuse the Content. Whether this permission will be granted and subject to what conditions is decided on a case-by-case basis, and the User cannot rely on any permission granted in the past or granted to third parties. Costs may be associated with the permission to copy Content, which will be at least € 0.36 per word (excluding VAT) in the event of text files.

If the User infringes TMG's rights, he/she is liable for all damage suffered by TMG as a result, including the costs of investigation and legal assistance.

(Re-)Use of Digital Publications

It is prohibited to circumvent, inactivate or otherwise influence the security of Digital Publications or parts thereof, or attempt to do so, or prevent or limit (or attempt to prevent or limit) the Use of these by third parties.

The publishing of a Digital Publication, in its entirety or in part, via any medium whatsoever, is only permitted by using a hyperlink or by using a functionality provided by TMG via the particular Digital Publication (for instance an embed code). All other forms of reproduction and/or publishing of a Digital Publication require TMG's prior written permission.

It is explicitly prohibited to publish and/or reproduce Digital Publications in another context (visual or otherwise), through another URL, by means of an iframe or any other kind of framing.

The use of software or any automated system to retrieve information from the Digital Publications (“scraping”) is prohibited, unless TMG has given its explicit prior consent and the functionalities offered by TMG (such as an API connection) are being used.

Disclaimer

TMG devotes constant care and attention to the content and composition of its Publications. Nonetheless, TMG does not provide any guarantees with regard to the completeness, accuracy or reliability thereof, nor does TMG guarantee that the information contained in the Publications is suitable for the purpose for which these are consulted. Nor is TMG responsible for (the content of) publications by third parties (digital or otherwise) to which reference is made in its Publications via links, hyperlinks or otherwise.

Claims and opinions expressed in the articles and notices (including advertisements) in the Publications are those of the particular author/authors, advertiser/advertisers and/or other User/Users, and not (necessarily) those of TMG. TMG neither guarantees nor endorses any product or service mentioned in its Publications, nor does it guarantee the claims made by the party offering these products or services. With this in mind, the User is advised to, if necessary, seek independent information and/or conduct his own research before using the information obtained via the Publications.

TMG may perform editorial, substantive, technical and/or other types of checks on User Content, but does not do this in all cases. The User is aware that a Publication may contain factually incorrect, insulting, indecent or distasteful User Content and explicitly accepts that TMG is not liable for this.

TMG accepts no liability whatsoever for damage of any nature whatsoever arising from or in connection with the Use of its Publications or the unavailability – temporary or otherwise – of the Publications.

The User himself/herself is fully liable for the Use of the Publications and any ensuing consequences. The User is liable to TMG for any Use by him/her of the Publications that is not in accordance with the provisions of these Conditions of Use and indemnifies TMG against all third-party claims in relation to such.

User Content

The following conditions apply to all User Content:

- User Content must satisfy the house rules that apply to the particular Publication;
- User Content may not break any law, may not infringe any third-party rights (including intellectual property rights, privacy rights or portrait rights) and may not otherwise be unlawful towards third parties or TMG;
- User Content may not be hurtful or discriminatory, may not be in breach of public order or common decency, may not incite violence or the commission of crimes, may not contain pornographic material, and may not contain any commercial messages;
- TMG reserves the right to shorten, adapt, refuse, remove or block User Content or otherwise render it inaccessible if it is in violation of the provisions of these Conditions of Use or, if necessary, without having to report its reasons;
- TMG reserves the right to inform the competent investigative authorities about User Content that is in breach of public order, otherwise in violation of the law and/or in case TMG is obligated to report such User Content;
- The User is fully liable for the (consequences of) other Users’ Use of User Content he/she has submitted.
- By submitting User Content, the User declares and guarantees that he/she has the right and/or all necessary permissions to publish and reproduce this User Content and grant TMG and other Users a licence to it;
- By making User Content available, the User grants:
  - TMG an irrevocable, worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free, transferable licence (with the right to sublicense), which is not limited in time, for any use, reuse, reproduction, dissemination, creation of derivative works, display and performance of this User Content or parts thereof, for any purpose and in any way whatsoever in all its Publications, as well as permission to store the User Content in (electronic) files;
  - every other User an irrevocable, worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free licence, which is not limited in time, to access that User Content via the particular Publication, as well as for the use, reproduction, dissemination, creation of derivative works, display and performance of that User Content, within the functionality of a Digital Publication and to the extent this is explicitly permitted under these Conditions of Use.

The following additional conditions apply to User Content in Digital Publications:

- In order to make User Content available, the User must log in using his/her account or enter a correct e-mail address;
- Users under the age of 16 years must have permission from their parents or legal guardians in order to make User Content available;
- User Content may not contain any viruses, Trojan horses, worms or other software that could damage the Digital Publication, render it unusable or inaccessible or which could otherwise cause damage to TMG and/or other Users;
- TMG has the right to watermark User Content with a logo in order to be able to trace the cross-posting of this User Content by third parties. Altering, moving or removing a watermark is prohibited.

TMG is not liable for the consequences of publishing User Content and the User indemnifies TMG against all third-party claims in relation to this.

Creating an Account

If a Digital Publication offers the possibility of creating an account, the following conditions apply:

- The data to be provided when creating an account must be complete and accurate;
- Users under the aged of 16 years must have permission from their parents or legal guardians in order to create an account. By creating an account, the User guarantees that he/she is 16 years of age or older or that he/she has permission from his/her parents or legal guardians;
- Creating an account in another person's name or assuming a false identity is prohibited;
- The User is responsible for keeping his/her user name/login code and password strictly confidential;
- The User is not permitted to use his/her account to grant third parties access to a Digital Publication;
- The User is fully responsible and liable for all use of his/her user name/login code and password and for all actions performed via his/her account. If and as soon as a User suspects that his/her login code, password, account and/or identity is being used unlawfully, he/she must immediately notify TMG of this. In that event TMG is authorised to take all measures it deems necessary to protect its Publications and other Users and the User is required to fully cooperate with these measures;
- TMG reserves the right to refuse, delete or block access to an account, temporarily or otherwise.

Amendments

TMG reserves the right to amend the contents of its Publications, the services provided through the Publications, as well as these Conditions of Use at any time. The amended Conditions of Use take effect at the moment they are published. By continuing the Use of the Publications, the User agrees with the applicability of the amended Conditions of Use.

Choice of Law

Dutch law applies to these Conditions of Use and any disputes arising from them.

These Conditions of Use were most recently amended on 18 July 2017
